

Answer Key

Buck A male goat of any age.

Doe A female goat of any age.

Flushing Feeding a doe extra feed two weeks prior to breeding.

Kid Goats of either sex up to one year of age.

Kidding The birthing process in goats.

Wether A castrated male goat.

Browser A plant eater that would rather eat weeds, shrubs, and trees.

Cabrito The red meat of a young goat normally around forty pounds.

Cashmere The fiber taken from the goats soft, fine, winter undercoat.

Chevon The term used to describe meat from older goats.

Chevre The term for goat cheese.

Disbudding Removal of the horns of goats around five days of age.

Capra hircus Scientific name for goats.

Mohair Fiber taken from Angora goats.

Flock A group of goats.

Mastitis The inflammation of an animal's udder which can be infectious or noninfectious.

Bloat Term used to describe a secure distention of the abdomen by gas.

Foot Rot Inflammation of an animal's foot due to walking in wet ground and receiving an infection in the animal's hoof.

Floppy Kid Syndrome A condition that occurs in kids three to ten days after birth.

Enterotoxaemia Disease in goats caused by a toxin producing bacteria.

Tetanus Disease caused by bacteria that enters the body through open wounds.