

Answer Key

Across

- 2 any warm blooded animals with a vertebrate, and nourish their young with milk from the mammary glands of the female
- 3 being most active at night
- 5 cold blooded organism that hatches as an aquatic animal with gills and then transforms into a land dwelling animal with lungs
- 6 most active during the day
- 7 where one species benefits from another species that is unaffected
- 9 an organism that lives by preying on other organisms
- 10 lowland area, that has excessive moisture and is usually the habitat to various wildlife species
- 11 environment where wildlife normally live
- 12 branch of biology that studies relations and interactions between organisms and their environment

Down

- 1 relationship where one organism benefits from the other (host is usually harmed)
- 2 two different species associate in a way in which each member benefits
- 4 any cold blooded vertebrate that usually lays eggs and has a body covered in scales or leathery skin
- 8 seasonal movement of wildlife
- 9 animal eaten by a predator
- 10 animals living in their natural environment